TREATIES ARE KNIFED BY SENATE

President's Wishes Ignored by Senate Committee in Considering Measure

FIGHT FOR PRINCIPALS

Ambassador Bryce's Criticism of Senate is Factor—Clause Giving Commission High Power is Eliminated.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Disregarding a telegraphic request from President Taft for a contrary course, the senate committee on foreign relations Saturday agreed upon an amendment to the British and French arbitration treaties, eliminating the provision conferring special powers on the proposed joint high commission.

In this form the treaties were reported to the senate and the president's wishes that action be postponed until next December were set at naught.

The senate almost immediately gave two hours to consideration of the treaties during which the danger of old world dominance on any joint high commission was discussed.

Incidentally there was considerable talk about a criticism upon the senate contained in "The American Commonwealth" written by Ambassador Bryce long before he ever thought of coming to this country on a diplomatic mission.

In that work Mr. Bryce attacked the senate upon the ground that it kept diplomatic troubles alive so long as there was any political advantage to be gained by so doing.

Whether the opposition to ratifying the treaties unadvised could in any way be traced to these utterances by one of the principal signers of the convention between this country and Great Britain, was not manifested.

In any event no conclusions were reached by the senate and the general opinion among senators seemed to be that the treaties would receive very little if any further consideration at this session of congress.

The telegram from President Taft was sent from Beverly and was received by Chairman Cullom prior to the session of the foreign relations committee. It was addressed to the committee and requested that if the treaties were to be amended, that action should be postponed until December.

Before leaving Washington President Taft had made strong representations to leading members of the committee urging as vitally important the retention of the provision giving to the joint high commission the right to determine disputed questions without reference to the senate.

In modified form. This news was not unexpected, but the president had still hoped the committee would accept the treaties as they were.

In spite of the disappointment he felt over the changes in the treaties, which indicate the probability that they must go over to the next session, the president intends to keep up his fight to have the pact accepted in full. Already he has lined up many senators friendly to the administration and when he returns to Washington Monday he will continue his personal campaign. The president is scheduled to speak at a Methodist camp meeting at Ocean Grove, N. J., on Tuesday, and while he has not written his address for that occasion it is deemed probable tonight he would find opportunity there to refer to the senate's action.

The president has never felt the force of arguments that the senate would lessen its own right as part of the treaty making power of the government by accepting these general arbitration measures as presented to it. The action of the foreign relations committee has not changed his view.

It was admitted here tonight that if the senate insisted upon putting through the treaty in modified form, a re-opening of negotiations with Great Britain and France would probably be necessary. Steps looking to such a resumption of the negotiations are not contemplated by the president at this time, but it is probable he will take the matter up with Secretary Knox next week.

NEW BOARD IN CHARGE AT MIDNIGHT

Columbus, Aug. 14.—At midnight tonight, 18 state institutions will pass into control of the new Central Board of Control, and at the same time 18 boards of trustees, comprising a total of 90 members, will go out of existence. The new board has been preparing for weeks for its duties and under the direction of its fiscal supervisor, E. Frank Brown, a new uniform system of accounting will be put into operation in all the institutions. The board will appoint superintendents for the 18 institutions and the superintendents will, in turn, appoint other employees, subject to the approval of the board.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Declines To Appeal Case Won By Common Pleas Judges.

Columbus, O., Aug. 14.—Attorney General Hogan has overruled the State Board of Inspection and Auditor E. M. Fullington, on the basis of pay for common pleas judges. The state pays the judges $3,000 annually and in addition they collect $10 per thousand inhabitants.

The law is indefinite on what population is to be counted. The judges have held for the total of their judicial subdivision. Fullington said it was the county in which the judges resided and asked Judges E. M. Wickham of Delaware, Charles W. Seward of Newark and Edwin Mansfield of Shelby, to refund several hundred dollars each.

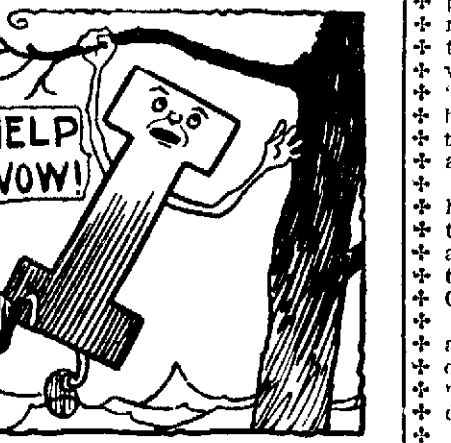

By agreement Mansfield started an action in mandamus to compel payment on the subdivision basis. He won in circuit court. The attorney general has declined to appeal to the supreme court. He holds that the law and justice both are with the judges, many of whom live in small counties, like Portage, and do most of their work in big counties, like Mahoning.

SIX-YEAR TERMS

For President and Vice President Sought by Kentuckian.

Washington, Aug. 14.—An amendment to the constitution, providing that the president and vice president be elected for terms of six years, instead of four, and not be eligible to succeed themselves, has been introduced by Representative Fields of Kentucky. Mr. Fields also offered an amendment making the terms of representatives three instead of two years.

STEEL CARS SAVE LIVES OF MANY

Frightful Wreck Near Fort Wayne Sunday Night Kills Four Persons

FREIGHT IS SIDESWIPED

Chicago-New York Flyer Blown While Traveling 50 Miles An Hour—Four Dead, Thirty Injured in Accident.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., Aug. 14.—Reports from hospitals today, where more than two score persons who were injured in the wreck yesterday of the Pennsylvania flyer, indicate that the death toll may not exceed four. Two bodies have been recovered, including that of Valentine Snyder of Crestline, O., but two others are still missing.

Ft. Wayne, Aug. 14.—Four persons were killed and 30 or more injured when the Pennsylvania 18-hour train, en route from Chicago to New York, jumped the track on the western outskirts of the city at 6:30 Sunday evening while going at the rate of 50 miles an hour. In leaving the rails the two engines, pulling the passenger train sideswiped a freight train and the three engines piled up in a mass of bent and twisted iron.

The baggage car, smoker, buffet and two sleepers turned over in the ditch. Most of the injured were seated in the diner and smoker when the accident occurred.

The injured are now in the hospitals and hotels and it is believed that at least four or five will die.

The police department, the fire department and every ambulance in the city were called to the scene of the accident and the injured were soon taken to the hospitals. At least 50 doctors were on the scene within a half hour of the time the trains came together, and within a short time thousands of persons had collected about the wreck.

The body of Fred Zimmerman who died in Wilkesbarre and which was being brought here for burial was recovered from the baggage. One of the cars caught fire and was burning by the time the fire department arrived.

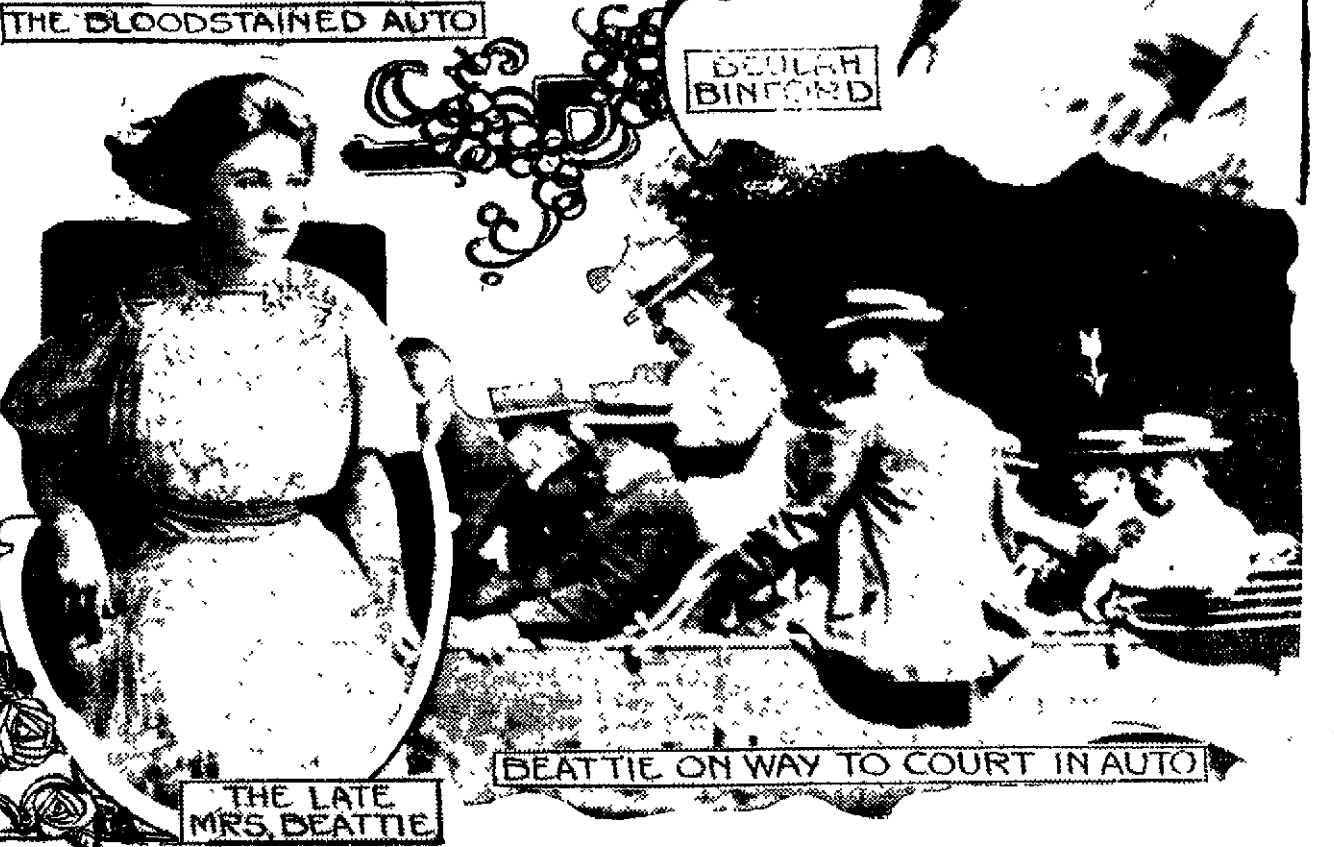

The main track and the track on which the freight train was located were torn up for a distance of 200 yards. The two engines of the flyer were torn from their trucks and thrown down the embankment, while the engine of the freight reared up in the air over the trucks of the flyer's engines.

The all-steel cars of the flyer were put to the first actual wreck test they have ever undergone and proved to be all that has been claimed for them by their designers. Only the first two cars of the heavy nine-car train were much smashed.

Passengers in the seven rear cars escaped with only cuts and bruises, whereas, if the cars had been of the old-fashioned wood construction, the carnage would have been frightful.

It will take a day or more for the wreck train to clear away the wreck.

PRINCIPALS IN BEATTIE MURDER CASE, WHICH HAS SHOCKED THE SOUTH, AND AUTO IN WHICH WIFE WAS SHOT

Richmond, Va., August 14.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., will be tried during the week beginning Aug. 14 on the charge of having murdered his wife by shooting her with a shotgun while riding at night in an automobile. H. M. Smith, Jr., his chief of counsel, said that he believed there would be no occasion for a request of delay on his part. L. O. Wendenburg, the prosecuting attorney, said that his case was complete, and that he hoped to have the trial ended within a week. He said that there was no reason for doubt insofar as he saw the evidence in the case. "The man is guilty, and I believe he will be sent to the electric chair," Beulah Blinford, the girl with whom Beattie is said to have been in love and for whose sake he is alleged to have killed his wife, will be the chief witness at the trial. She is alleged to have burned many letters from Beattie the night the death of the young woman occurred. Beattie's father is supplying funds liberally for the defense.

SALOONS ORDERED CLOSED AT SCENE OF LYNCHING

Coatesville, Pa., Aug. 14.—With a skull and two ribs, all that remained of Zeke Walker, a negro burned at the stake by an infuriated mob for the murder of Edward Rice, thrown into a soap box and exposed near the spot where he was burned, residents here today expressed a determination to balk at the efforts of Sheriff Golden to arrest the persons responsible for the lynching. Several thousand excited and determined citizens declare they will resist arrests by further violence, if necessary, are today pacing the streets of the village.

BEATTIE WILL BE INDICTED

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 14.—Formal demand that Henry Clay Beattie, charged with wife murder, pay the penalty of death, was made here today by attorneys for the state. At 1:15 this afternoon the grand jury returned an indictment charging Beattie with murder in the first degree. It took the slow-going grand jury but a few moments to reach the decision. The trial started at 2 o'clock today.

MR. ASHBROOK'S INTEREST IN NEWARK'S MAIL SERVICE

In addition to what has been published in the columns of the Advocate regarding the interest taken by our Congressman, William A. Ashbrook, in securing an additional letter carrier in and of increased mail service for our city the following letter on the subject adds more facts that show how attentive our Congressman is to every request made of him by his constituents:

R. E. McGonagle, Esq.,
Newark Ohio

Dear Friend: I notice that you signed a petition, asking for an extension of the carrier service to include the North End of Newark. I filed this petition with the Postoffice Department on January 21st last. MOB SPIRIT IN LONDON IS SERIOUS

Bar Rooms Looted and Stores Raided by Rioters

SOLDIERS MAY RULE CITY

Authorities State That Order Will be Restored With Powder and Ball If Necessary.

Liverpool, Aug. 14.—After 24 hours of almost continuous rioting, accompanied by bloodshed, the troops, aided by the police, cleared the streets for the first time this evening. Renewed attempts at lawlessness were met with stern measures and tonight it is reported that the troops have been ordered to shoot, if necessary. Home Secretary Churchill has announced that more infantry and cavalry are enroute to this city.

Liverpool, Aug. 14.—Rioting was resumed today after a night filled with violence and bloodshed. Mob spirit ruled everywhere. With the police and soldiery wearied from the all-night struggle, the mobs began at an early hour this morning to loot barrooms and provision shops.

Liquor increased the anger of the mob and clashes with the police and soldiers were frequent. The authorities sent out word that the entire city will be placed under martial law and order restored with powder and ball, if necessary.

STRIKE SPREADS

London, Aug. 14.—A strike which may tie up the business and transportation of the entire country is threatened in every commercial center in England today.

A resumption of the conditions of last week is threatened by the ultimatum of the dockers that unless 1000 municipal dock employees, discharged for affiliating with the union, are reinstated, the terms of Saturday's settlement will be disregarded.

NEWARK EASILY WINS SUNDAY'S DOUBLE BILL FROM TERRE HAUTE

Locals Have Batting Rally in Second Game, and "Dolly" Gray Gets Home Run With Bases Full—Clever Catches Made By Local Outfielders—Hits, Passes and Steals Timely Negotiated Give Newark Both Games.

Yesterday was a gala day for the local fans. Newark easily took both games of the double header and in spite of the bad weather which threatened in the morning, fifteen hundred people witnessed the dual victory. The Huts, strengthened by the addition of several new players, since their last appearance here, made a valiant effort to win. The first game was almost free of errors and although there was heavy hitting, it was well scattered. The visitors pounded Riley at all stages of the game and it was with difficulty in several innings that they were let down without a run.

In the second game there was less slugging, but the hits were well connected with bases on balls and hit batsmen. The locals pounded Billiards hard in the second inning, Dolly Gray getting a home run with the sacks choked. "Dolly" also made a fine running catch of Quesser's scorching in right field in the second inning. Wickland's fielding was a feature of the afternoon's work, making several catches after unusually long runs. Parker also made a beautiful catch of a fly in left field while running rapidly forward.

In the second game, the six hits which were garnered off Billiards delivery, were good for nine runs. The Huts got as many hits off Gilbert but the visitors' work lacked the base-running and timely bunting. Both games were good exhibitions of baseball and the fans were more than pleased with the game put up by the home team. The first game resulted 5 to 2; the second 9 to 5.

Newark started the scoring in the second inning. Wickland singled. Gray rolled to Wetzell who doubled. Nee to Somerlott. Kihm hit sharply to left, barely beating the throw in to second. Parker got a life on Nee's error and advanced Kihm. Parker and "Dumny" then worked a double steal, the latter scoring. Martin breezed.

The locals annexed three more in the fourth. Pendry grounded to Somerlott and was thrown out. Loomis covering first. Wickland repeated the stunt and beat Loomis to the bag. Gray got a two-bagger in right field, and Wick scored. Kihm singled to left, scoring Gray and taking second on the throw-in. Parker advanced Kihm and went on Loomis to Somerlott. Martin singled to right, Kihm scored and Riley popped to Quesser.

A lack of headwork in the sixth gave the Huts their first tally. Connolly skied to Wickland. Nee's sharp roller bounded over Parker's head and was good for a base. Bates singled. Wetzell grounded to Murry who got balled up and threw to Kihm, allowing Nee to score. Quesser brought the inning to an abrupt close by jamming the ozone.

The visitors tallied again in the seventh. O'Brien was out with a roller to Parker. Loomis took first on Parker's error and advanced on Grogan's line drive through the same position. Somerlott fled to left center and Wickland speared it after a long run. Connolly cavorted to a screecher to right. Loomis is scoring. Nee was an easy out, Parker to Kihm.

Pendry slipped over the last tally in the eighth. He reached first on a pop fly over the pitcher's head. Wickland whacked the pellet too fast for Loomis to handle and Gray was hit filling the bases. Kihm, Parker and Martin successfully fled to outfield, the first being a sacrifice which scored Pendry. Score:

Table with 2 columns: Player, Score. Rows include Newark (5) and Terre Haute (2).

Notes. In the first game Craven was robbed of three long hits. Each of the first three times at bat. "Midge" pooled out a long fly which looked good for several bases but some wild fielding snipped it in the bud. Gray's home run was one of the few long hits that are coupled with crowded base paths. "Dolly" also slammed out a couple of two-baggers yesterday afternoon.

Wickland continued his brilliant fielding of Friday's game into yesterday's session. The crack center fielder is simply a wonder at pulling in impossible hits, tagged for extra bases.

C. Parker figured in two double steals, one in each game. In the first game, the trick scored Kihm and in the second Gray came across the rubber. The Newark lads were on their toes and ready to score on anything.

Wild pitches, sacrifice flies and errors contributed toward the final score of the totals, this accounting for the nine runs and six hits of the second game.

Fort Wayne, 6; Zanesville, 0. Zanesville, O., Aug. 14.—Wacker's lone pitching made it three straight for Fort Wayne over Zanesville Sunday. Score:

Table with 2 columns: Player, Score. Rows include Fort Wayne (6) and Zanesville (0).

Second Game. Only seven innings were played in the second game. The locals had a batting rally in the second inning pushing seven men over the rubber. Kihm singled. C. Parker walked. J. Parker popped to Billiards. Gilbert rolled out to Somerlott. Craven took one in the ribs and walked. Murry singled with the bases full and Kihm scored. All hands advanced on the throw to force Kihm at the plate. Parker scoring. Pendry drew a pass and Wickland was hit, again filling the bases. Dolly Gray gave the horse-hide a cruel wallop, clearing the right field fence and registering four tallies. Kihm fanned.

Hartford came up in the fourth and singled to left, advanced on a wild pitch. Murry got Wetzell's scorching and Quesser waited for four balls. O'Brien got a life on Murry's error. Hartford scoring. Billiards grounded out to Kihm, scoring Quesser. Grogan singled and Parker stopped the agony by making a difficult SHORT SPORT. The Cubs begin their last eastern invasion in Boston on Wednesday. Will the eastern teams let them return home in first place? They may but not unless they have to.

The Pirate craft is right in the wake of the league leaders and Marty O'Toole, properly chaperoned by Billy Murray is hustling along to join them. Now we shall see the $22,500 beauty in action.

Gasper held the Pirates to three hits and won the first game of a double-header for the Reds, but Piano Mover Smith lost his 7 to 2.

Frank Schulte, with his bride went autoing before Sunday's game. His auto broke down so far out in the country he couldn't get to the game. Which is one of the drawbacks of predatory wealth.

Bugs Raymond, pitching for the Gunthers, a Chicago semi-professional team, shut out bantam weight champion Johnny Coulon's team, ten to nothing. One, Murrey McGraw could use a pitcher like that just now.

Ty Cobb, really ill, is out of the game. Drake, sliding in and playing his hand in the White Sox series. Thirteen base hits and five errors are enough to give almost any team a game.

Because a million or so aeroplanes were flocking through the air, only a corporal's guard attended Sunday's games in Chicago.

The Browns drove Falkenberg off the mound in the first of Sunday's double, but Knapp came back strong in the second and won out. The scores in both games were 7 to 1.

Rather than trample all over Charles Calkins' professional ducks, which were playing in the mud in right field, Matty McIntire of the Sox stopped and let a foul ball safe. We dread to think what would have happened to him if he had killed one of the web-footed beasts.

THEY'RE ALL AFTER HIM. Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 11. Five clubs are bidding for Outfielder Connolly, who has batted .127 since he came to Terre Haute from Zanesville some weeks ago. The high bid so far is said to be $2,500, and owners name four of the bidders as Chicago Cubs, Denver, Los Angeles and Newark, N. J. The fifth club is held in confidence. The Cincinnati Reds made an offer for Piecher Ben Patterson, who was a star with the Michigan Aggies until his graduation in June.

Handling Explosives. All of the railroads entering Columbus have joined in making preparations for the illustrated lecture on the safe transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles, which will be delivered at the Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening, Aug. 21, by Colonel J. GRADS COME FOR LAST GAME WITH LOCALS

The Grand Rapids club arrived here today from Grand Rapids, having finished the series there with Evansville (now South Bend), winning two games out of three. Evansville recently took three of the locals in a series of four games here, so if do prove anything, the Newark lads will have to get up on their toes. The class of baseball put up Sunday will do the work, however, and the outlook is for a series of fast games.

Newark has nine more home games this season, according to the schedule. Beginning today a series of three games will be played with Grand Rapids. On Aug. 29, 30 and 31, Ft. Wayne will be seen in action at Wehrle Park. On Sept. 1, 2 and 3, Dayton comes over for the last home series.

Thirty games remain to be played at home and abroad. There is plenty of chance for Newark yet to make an advance in club standing, and the next few games will decide our position. A little enthusiasm will do wonders. Get out on the lot and yell.

EVANSVILLE AFTER FRANCHISE. Evansville, Ind., Aug. 14.—An effort will be made by local baseball fans to buy the franchise of the Montgomery (Ala.) baseball team in the Southern League, transferring it to this city.

O'TOOLE JOINS PIRATES TONIGHT

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 14.—Marty O'Toole, the baseball sensation of the year, today is speeding to Pittsburgh to join the Pirates, before they leave on their eastern trip. Manager Kelley, of the St. Paul American Association club, explained today that the Pirates have a chance for the league pennant and also the world's championship, and that though it would mean a loss at his own gate, the red head would be given an early chance to demonstrate in fast company what a wonderful twirler he is.

BENTLEY LEAVES FOR COAST JOB

Robert Bentley, athletic director of Hitchcock Military academy at San Rafael, Cal., who has been spending the summer season in Columbus, left Sunday for the west to resume his duties at that institution. Bentley turned out championship teams in football and baseball last year and begins his second year's work with excellent prospects. He is well known among former Newark high school football players.

S.S.S. REMOVES ALL HUMORS FROM THE BLOOD

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor in the blood, and therefore the cure of any skin trouble can come only through a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., relieve some of the itching and discomfort, help to reduce inflammation, or aid in keeping the cuticle clean, but such treatment does not reach the blood, and of course can have no real curative effect. S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind because it purifies the blood. It is an internal remedy for an internal trouble, and works on the only humors and certain method of cure. S.S.S. removes all acids and humors from the circulation and leaves the blood stream rich, healthy and nourishing in order that it may supply the cuticle with the necessary properties to restore it to its smooth, normal condition. Heart and Home Talks

Tells Some Qualities an Employer Would Like to Find in an Employee.

"If I were an employer," said the Candid Girl, "seems to me I would call each new employee into my office, and tell her in plain language some of the things I expected of her."

"It wouldn't do any good," said the Business Man. "You'd only be wasting your time. You'd better be turning it into money to offset her delinquencies."

"But wouldn't it be worth while," inquired the Candid Girl, sweetly, "to tell her for instance, that the office was neither a manicure parlor nor a hairdresser's, and that I would like her to complete her toilet at home?"

"Not a bit," said the Business Man. "She would simply think you mean and horrid."

"Nor wouldn't it do any good for me to mention that the telephone wasn't a private wire put in for her especial benefit?"

"Not a bit. If you did, she'd hang up the receiver with such a bang every time you asked her to answer it for you, that you'd probably get a call down from the chief operator."

The Candid Girl sighed. "Nevertheless, it seems to me, I would like to tell her, when she was always late in the morning and made a lot of mistakes and said it was because her mother was sick and she was worried, that, of course, I was sorry her mother was sick, but that the office was not an egyptian institution to provide funds for sick mothers; and that she had better either get some one to take care of her sick mother, so that she could do her own work properly, or else stop making a bluff at it, and stay home and look after her mother."

"She'd only think you a heartless brute," said the Business Man, wearily.

The Candid Girl looked pensive. "It's queer, isn't it, how they get things muddled." After a few minutes, she went on. "And I would like to suggest that she take some memory training, so that whenever I asked her if she had attended to all the important matters I had told her about, she wouldn't exclaim with a start, 'Oh, I forgot!'"

"No use," said the Business Man. "She seems to think it a sufficient excuse that she's sorry."

"Wouldn't it be of any value to hint, that if she would go to bed a little earlier, she wouldn't be all fagged out in the morning?"

"You'd be taking personal liberties."

"Nor to give a little plain talk about wasting supplies? If, for instance, I pointed out," said the Candid Girl thoughtfully, "that it would mean a big decrease in the running expenses of the business, if she and the others would be careful about the stationery, and not use any more wrapping paper and string than was needed, or would get more than a dozen words to a page in their shorthand notebooks, and a few things like that, wouldn't it have any effect?"

"You'd be stingy."

The Candid Girl sighed. "If there was only some way to give employees the employer's point of view for a little while! If they could be induced to look with his eyes at these matters, maybe the employer's lot would be a happier one."

DETECTIVE SHOT ON CROWDED CAR

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 14.—While sitting beside his captor in a crowded street car Saturday evening, John Lewis, arrested on suspicion of swindling milliners, suddenly drew a revolver and pressing it to the detective's stomach, fired.

The detective, Frank Frazer, grappled with the prisoner in spite of his wounds and amid the panic in the street car, the prisoner shot again, the ball going through Frazer's hand. The detective is in a dangerous condition in the city hospital.

Lewis answered the description received from Indianapolis of a man traveling about the country robbing milliners.

PLAID TRIMMINGS GIVE A YOUTHFUL, JAUNTY EFFECT. Singularly graceful is this blue satin suit which gives long slender lines and has a snap and dash which make it youthful in suggestion. The coat is semi-fitted at the back and the skirt repeats the style of the coat in the button trimming. The sailor collar and cuffs are of Scotch plaid silk serge in blue, green and yellow and it will be noted that the sleeves are quite short—a feature noticeable on many suits designed for early fall wear.

TELEPHONE COMPANY WINS SUIT

INJUNCTION AGAINST J. F. SWARTZ, FORBIDDING HIM TO DISTURB CABLES, MADE PERMANENT.

Wanted to Move House on Jefferson Street Which Would Disturb Hundreds of Telephones.

The case of the Newark Telephone company vs. J. Frank Swartz, was decided by Judge Seward in the Common Pleas Court this morning. The suit was commenced on the 21st day of July by the Newark Telephone company and they obtained a temporary injunction enjoining Swartz, who was about to move a house along Jefferson street across the creek west, and to do so it would be necessary to disturb two 100-pair cables belonging to the Newark Telephone company, which supplied the whole west end of Newark with telephone communication. The cables stood in front of the house on Jefferson street and under which the house could not pass. Swartz claimed the right, if necessary, to pass through these cables, if he could not raise them sufficiently to pass under them. The telephone company offered to raise the cables if Swartz would pay the expense of raising them, which he refused to do.

The court decided the case in favor of the telephone company, holding that the telephone company had a right to maintain the cables where it had them and that its right under its franchise was superior to the right of any one to move a building along the street, and the court held that it was not the right of a house mover to undertake to clear the wires from his path, but that if the wires or cables were to be moved and the court had a right to say that they could be moved, that the company had the exclusive right to move them and that the house mover must pay the expense and the court made the preliminary injunction perpetual enjoining Swartz from interfering with the cables. Kilber & Kilber represented the Telephone company and Flory & Flory represented Swartz. The defendant gave notice of appeal.

COURT ORDERS STOCKHOLDERS TO PAY $20,000

In the case of Firststadter against the Newark Savings Bank company, a decree was entered Monday morning in the Common Pleas court against the solvent stockholders in favor of the creditors whose claims were contracted prior to November 3, 1903, ordering the stockholders to pay in an amount sufficient to satisfy these claims. The claims of this character will amount to about $20,000. This will require about fifty per cent of the solvent stock to satisfy the same. As soon as the money is paid in parties holding claims of this character will get their money. When this will be is somewhat uncertain, owing to the fact that there is often some delay in paying money when the court orders paid. This is the latest chapter in the Savings Bank company's affairs.

CITIZENS STORE NOT YET OPENED

Contrary to expectations, the Citizens 5, 10 and 25 Cent Store of this city, which was closed several days ago by Sheriff Slabaugh on an attachment issued in favor of William Elliott to cover a claim of $500, was not re-opened Monday morning. Mr. Slaugenhaupt, who went to Cleveland in the interest of the local stockholders, was given to understand that the Newark store would be open for business Monday, under direction of Receiver Sidney N. Deitz, but up to 2 o'clock Monday afternoon no word had been received from Cleveland, either by Mr. Slaugenhaupt or Sheriff Slabaugh. Mr. Slaugenhaupt said to an Advocate reporter Monday afternoon that the store would be opened for business just as soon as the legal papers can reach here from Cleveland.

RECIPES FOR AUG. 15, 1911.
Vegetable Soup.—Cut into half inch slices sufficient carrot and turnip to measure one-third of a cupful of each; cut into half inch pieces celery to measure one-half of a cupful; dice one and one-half cups of raw potato; in a stewpan put three tablespoonfuls of butter, add the carrot, turnip, celery and onion, cover and cook for fifteen minutes, then add one quart of water and boil steadily for an hour, beating occasionally with a spoon to break up the vegetables. Add salt and pepper to taste, one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley and serve.

Peach Sauce.—Make a hard sauce and whip into it a little at a time as much peach pulp as it will take up without separating. In serving an extra quantity of the pulped fruit may be served with the sauce.

It's all right to pray for rain, but a surer plan is to get up a picnic.

TURN OUT IN FORCE AT THE PRIMARIES

The Advocate has presented reasons ample in number and sufficient in force why there should be a large turn out of thinking Democratic voters at the primary election, September 5. It is now up to the voters to take their stand and do their duty in behalf of the welfare of their city. Under the present system there should always be as large a turn-out of voters at the primaries as at the general election. But this year the conditions in Newark are such as to appeal to every voter in the most urgent manner to turn out to the primaries en masse, for the purpose of promoting the city's good name and protecting its business future.

ANDERSON PENSION BILL REPUDIATED

(Wood Co. Democrat)

The so-called McElroy-Anderson Pension bill is now dead. The House of Representatives struck it from the calendar on Monday last by a unanimous vote. Not a Democrat or Republican voted to keep the bill on the calendar. Anderson left for home just as soon as he learned that a vote was to be taken on his bill. He knew, of course, that his bill had no friends either among the Democrats or Republicans, and Anderson skipped out so as to avoid being the only member out of the 261 members voting that would vote for the bill. This leaves the Anderson bill unanimously repudiated by the committee on Invalid Pensions and by the whole House. The Sherwood Dollar-a-Day bill is now the approved bill of the present Congress.

Another cowardly, scurrilous, anonymous letter received, with more threats. This writer tries to hide behind the respected name of Smith. But his disguise does not conceal him. Neither are his threats terrifying. The Advocate will continue right on in its fight for the redemption, protection and welfare of Newark and the cowardly writer can put his threats into his own pipe and smoke them during the entirety of his remaining winters.

Professor Harry C. Frankenfield, Government forecaster, declares the intense heat which has been felt all over the world this summer has been due to a belt of stagnant hot air 25,000 miles long, 3000 miles wide and 40 miles high gripping the earth on both sides of the equator. The forecaster promises relief as soon as cooler air can break through the torrid belt. This hot belt, he says, is due to a peculiar distribution of atmospheric pressure. He absolves Halley's comet from any connection with the present weather situation.

REGISTRATION DAYS

Two registration days will occur before the primaries—Wednesday, August 30, and Friday, September 1. All new voters and those having changed residences since last voting will be required to register or get a transfer.

GARAGE HAND HURT BY AUTO

Kenneth Coulter of North Eleventh street, was very badly injured at the Sigler-Hare garage on South Fourth street, Saturday evening. He was standing in front of a car belonging to the garage, which was facing the wall. Coulter started to crank it, when the car lurched forward, the radiator piercing his right arm between the wrist and elbow. An ugly wound was made, which caused three stitches to be taken. Dr. Hornby dress the wound, which he says will not prove serious.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOGAN INVESTIGATES PERSONALLY

Chief of Ohio's Legal Department Goes to Buckeye Lake and Gains Information First Hand, Will Report to Governor Harmon—Finds Charges Generally Warranted.

Buckeye Lake is going down at the rate of an inch a day and if the present lowering of the water continues for a week, the larger boats will have to cease operations.

This was the report which Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan has received in his investigation of general conditions at the lake. It has developed that Mr. Hogan last Wednesday night made a personal trip to the lake. He got a boat and, Hogan like, did some personal investigating. He also talked for a long time with one of his deputies who spends most of his time at the lake investigating the charges that water is being flagrantly wasted and the lake slowly but surely drained by the granting of special water privileges.

The general result of the Hogan visit was this: He found the charges generally warranted. He found that the lake is being bereft of water with startling rapidity. He found that if the waste of water continues at the lake soon will be un navigable, and the entire park therefore practically destroyed of its value as a summering and watering place. And Mr. Hogan found also that somebody is to blame for all this. He hasn't said officially just who, but that will come out when he makes his report to the governor. Meantime the fact that the attorney general suspended his work for an entire night to aid in the work of his deputies, two of whom are already at

NEW JERSEY

Democratic State Committee To Be Reorganized in Behalf of Gov. Wilson.

New York, Aug. 11.—The elimination of James R. Nugent as chairman of the New Jersey Democratic State committee at Asbury Park on Thursday night is generally believed by politicians in that state to mark the beginning of a new era in Democratic politics in that state, with Governor Woodrow Wilson in the saddle.

A persistent opponent of the principles and policies of Governor Wilson, Mr. Nugent was tolerated, they said, in spite of certain political methods which had become habitual with him until he made the fatal speech at Spring Lake when he called the Governor an "ingrate and a liar."

Nothing that Mr. Nugent can do between now and August 25, the date set for the next meeting of the State committee, can, it was asserted, prevent the Governor from carrying his plans to successful consummation.

The state committee is to be reorganized and a Wilson man, probably Judge Edward E. Grosvenor, will be elected chairman. It is expected

HOGAN RULES ON RIGHT TO VOTE IN A PRIMARY

Test of Affiliation With Party To Be Applied by Third Party's Judge in the Election.

Columbus, Aug. 14.—Under the primary law final judgment as to whether a man may vote a particular ticket at the coming primary rests with the judge of the political party whose ticket he seeks to vote, according to an opinion given Saturday by Attorney General Hogan to Secretary of State Graves.

The general rule is that a man's party affiliation is to be determined by his vote on a majority of the state ticket, the congressional ticket and legislative ticket.

Another test as to a man's right to participate in the primary of a particular party is whether he endorses the principles of the party. This fact may be determined by questions asked of the prospective elector.

Must Follow the Law.

"It seems to me that the only restriction upon the judges in satisfying themselves whether the person desiring to vote has affiliated with the party whose ticket he proposes to vote is that they shall determine the fact, as provided in Section 4980 of the general code, from the vote of the person at the last general election held in the even numbered years," says the attorney general. "As a general rule to apply to all which would not or could not be an inflexible rule, I would say that a person could be held to be affiliated with a party when his vote showed that he thereby endorsed and advocated the principles of the party with which he claims to be affiliated."

The attorney general says that may be giving the judges of election arbitrary powers, but it is the only possible construction under the statute.

NO CASH SAVED BY ARBITRATION

Peace Treaties Signed, but Forts Will Be Built.

Opposition to Compact With England Comes From This Source—Senate Will Discuss Agreements Thoroughly Before Ratifying Them—News Dealer's Suit Concerning Admiral Togo.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—About the time President Taft sent to the senate the arbitration treaties, which are intended to settle all disputes without war, work began on the forts that are to be erected at an enormous expense at the entrances to the Panama canal.

President Taft might have given assurance that the arbitration treaties will be effective by taking steps toward disarmament and stopping the erection of fortifications. One of the main contentions against arbitration as proposed in the treaties is that no steps are taken to save enormous expenditures for military and naval purposes by the nations which are parties to the agreements.

About the most interesting thing connected with the proposed arbitration is the cropping out of the old Irish spirit of antagonism to Great Britain. For no other reason than that the government of the United States bars itself from war with England can the Irish opposition to the arbitration treaties be traced. While no man believes that people now living will witness a war between Great Britain and this country, yet the spirit that has been shown is an evidence that our Irish citizens do not want us to shut the gate against possible war with the government that controls Ireland.

Will Be Discussed.

There will be a great deal of discussion of the arbitration treaties before they are ratified by the senate. "I am for arbitration," said Senator Clapp of Minnesota, "when there is anything to arbitrate. But what is the use of our making a declaration that we will arbitrate unknown disputes which may arise? It will be time enough to take into consideration the arbitration of such disputes when our diplomatic officers cannot settle them."

There are quite a number of senators who have the same view.

"Gave Togo a Sandwich."

"Here's your evening paper, all about giving Admiral Togo a sandwich," chanted an old news vendor who has a sense of humor. More than one person stopped to buy the paper, for the famous victor of the Russians was still "in our midst." As they inquired about the matter the old man remarked, "We have given Togo a sandwich and sent him home."

He referred to the many and frequent luncheons and dinners which were given Japan's naval officer. Morning, noon and night he was fed, and often he had a bite between meals. Why do civilized people think that the height of hospitality means overfeeding guests? Big feeds for savages are understood, but why apply it to the civilized and enlightened peoples?

Fighting the Caucus.

Congressman Norris never loses an opportunity to "swat the caucus" whether of his own or the Democratic party. Congressman Borland was making an argument in favor of a Lincoln memorial highway from Washington to Gettysburg.

"Would the gentleman from Missouri vote to take this bill up unless he gets consent from the Democratic caucus?" asked Norris.

"Certainly not," replied Borland, and the Nebraska man felt that he had scored once more on the caucus system.

Want a World Language.

Advocates of a world language are never discouraged. Volapuk and Esperanto have had their innings, and now comes forward some one who would have a congress of the world to establish an alphabet which shall be universal. The bill for this purpose has been introduced by Congressman Jackson of Kansas "by request," which means that he does not stand for it.

The author would have the views of the following upon the proposed alphabet: Linguists, phoneticians, philologists, lexicographers, orthoepists, orthographers, translators, translaters, teachers of language, artists, oculists, physicians, neurologists, missionaries, printers, typists, linotypists, typefounders, stenographers, phonographers, and so forth.

Moore Withdraws Charges.

J. Hampton Moore got himself into trouble while discussing the cotton schedule. He had a controversy with Fowler of Illinois on the question of silk stockings. Later the Illinois man sought again to engage him, and Moore referred to Fowler as an expert in hobbie skirts.

The debate ran along for a few minutes, and Fowler again interrupted. "I want to know," he said, "if the gentleman withdraws his charge that I am an expert in hobbie skirts?"

"Oh, I do now," replied Moore. He was then having a controversy with Heflin of Alabama, and he did not intend to fight out the hobbie skirt issue.

PRINTERS IN CONVENTION

Fifty-Seventh Session of the International Typographical Union Opens in Frisco.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—The fifty-seventh session of the International Typographical Union was opened here today with an address by Mayor P. H. McCarthy and remarks from representatives of the daily press, the commercial printing branch of the industry and from representatives of the local typographical union. Response was made by President Lynch of the International Typographical Union.

While the union was organized in 1852, this is the fifty-seventh convention that has been held by the International Typographical Union; it is not the fifty-seventh annual gathering. In 1894 the organization adopted the biennial idea and no convention was held in 1895 or in 1897; a return to annual conventions began with 1898, and they have been held yearly since that time.

The reports of officers submitted to the convention today show that for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1910, the membership of the International Typographical Union earned $45,602,944, or an average of $953 per member. For the fiscal year ending May 31, 1911, the membership earned the total of $19,770,678, or an average per member of $973. The average membership for the fiscal year ending with May, 1911, was 51,095, while the average membership for the prior fiscal year was 47,848.

These figures represent an increase in earnings of more than $1,000,000, and an increase in membership of 3247.

It was stated in the reports that at this time the average paying membership was more than 53,000. The convention is very largely attended and will be in session throughout the week.

He Took Her For a Thief

By DANIEL WINSTON

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Perry Atkinson, immaculately dressed and with a pearl stickpin in his cravat, was waiting on the platform of a seaside station at the height of the summer season. A number of persons were there, some to receive friends, some to see friends off, all waiting for a train. When it rolled up to the station Atkinson craned his neck with the rest, like a turkey gobbler hunting for some favorable point to fly over a fence.

While thus looking up he suddenly felt two arms thrown around his neck and a pair of lips pressed to his.

Now, at this special resort, situated not far from a large city, were many different classes of persons, from the highest to the lowest. When Atkinson felt himself in the embrace of a woman who was a stranger to him the first explanation of the situation that entered his head was that it was a game to relieve him of his money. Disengaging himself as quickly as possible, he clapped his hand to his hip, where he kept his pocketbook. He was relieved to find the wallet there. Then he instinctively felt for his pearl scarfpin, and it was gone!

By this time the woman who had embraced him—a girl of twenty—was standing looking at him with a puzzled expression which, as she gazed, developed into one of horror.

"I greatly fear," she stammered, "that I have made a mistake."

"You certainly have made a mistake if you take me for a 'dat.' You hand out my stickpin mighty quick or I'll call the police."

At this the girl put on an expression to describe which language is inadequate. Her face was scarlet; her eyes flashed alternate indignation and fear. Then suddenly Atkinson made a dive for her skirt, where he saw his scarfpin hanging, and caught it as it was about to fall to the ground. Putting it in its proper place, he gave the girl a final glance and was about to turn away when she said:

"Do you mean to tell me that you are not Ben Willard?"

"I don't know the gentleman."

"You are the image of him," the girl added, ready to burst into tears.

Atkinson gave her another look as if undecided whether to apologize or say something harsh, then walked away very much disgruntled. While he had been thus engaged a friend he had come to the station to receive had escaped him. As he walked to the summer residence where he was staying he began to see the episode in its true proportions and to become conscious of having made a guy of himself. Before the day was over he regretted not having apologized to the girl and longed for an opportunity to undo what he had done.

The next time Mr. Atkinson met the young lady whom he had mistaken for a thief he was dancing the cotillon at one of the "cottages." A line of ladies was advancing toward a line of gentlemen, and as the lines met the first gentleman whirled away with the first lady. In the coming line of ladies Atkinson suddenly espied the heroine of the stickpin. This in itself was embarrassing, but when he counted the men ahead of him and the ladies ahead of the girl in question and discovered that she would fall to him for a partner his heart sank down into the heels of his patent leather boots.

When the couples ahead of them were reduced to three Atkinson saw the girl's eyes fixed upon him and shuddered. He saw by her expression that she was about to take her revenge. When all those who had preceded them had sailed away in the dance and they stood face to face the girl turned on her heel, presenting her back to Atkinson in sight of all present, and marched out of the room.

Atkinson made way for the man next behind him, wishing that some of those standing about would shoot him. He made his exit through a door opposite the one by which the young lady had passed out and left the house.

The rest of the evening was given up by those who were not dancing to a discussion of what Atkinson, who was known to be a gentleman and a favorite socially, had done to draw forth an expression of such contempt.

The next fortnight was one of profound suffering to Atkinson. He sent friend after friend to the young lady, Miss Langdon, with explanations and apologies. No reply came from any of them. When he met her on the beach she did not notice him. Had she shown again signs of her contempt he would have liked it better. He declined all invitations, swearing that he would meet her. But when an intimate friend gave a cotillon party at which he was obliged to be present he was horror-stricken to see Miss Langdon among the guests. He tried to shirk dancing the cotillon, but failed. Sitting in his chair, the picture of misery, waiting while the ladies were offering favors, what was his astonishment to see the girl he had taken for a thief advance toward him, smiling, and hand him a favor.

It seemed as if the tortures of Tartarus were replaced by a heavenly balm. Placing his arm around her waist, he sailed away with her, neither speaking, yet both attracting, from the nature of the case, much attention. When they had finished their whirl Atkinson said to her:

"Only an angel would have forgiven me my stupid blunder."

"Only a fiend would have denied you forgiveness."

DR. C. O. PROBST WILL STUDY WHITE PLAGUE

Columbus, O., Aug. 14.—Dr. C. O. Probst, whose 25 years' service as secretary of the state board of health will end in September on account of alleged political interference with his work, has made preparations to leave the United States on Sept. 28 for Vienna, where he will take up a special study of tuberculosis.

He will spend some time in the Austrian city in association with some of the best experts in the world and later will visit France and England in the same line of research. Probst and they will probably spend a year abroad.

Dr. Probst is himself noted as one of the best tuberculosis experts in the country. His aim now is to study the European methods of tuberculosis treatment at first hand and determine if something cannot be learned further to stop the ravages of the disease in the United States.

His visit abroad, therefore, will be of inestimable importance to the scientific advancement of the study of the white plague. Dr. Probst has not definitely mapped out his European course as yet. After severing his connection with the state board of health he wants to take several days' rest before starting on his trip abroad.

TWO MINERS RESCUED.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 14.—From an imprisonment of 50 hours in a gangway of the Bass coal mine near Ashland, two men were rescued alive Sunday, while a third was found dead. The three men were caught by the caving in of the mine roof Saturday. A large gang of rescuers immediately began to dig, and encouraged by rappings which indicated to them that the men were still alive, kept up the work all night. The rescued miners are John Dolan and Anthony Tamashitos. The body of the third man, Peter Zemonskie, was buried beneath the fallen rock.

400 MOLDERS TO CEDAR POINT FOR OUTING

The excursion to Sandusky and Cedar Point Monday under the auspices of Iron Molders Union No. 1 of Newark, was a most gratifying success. The committee of arrangements had arranged with B. & O. R. people for a train to leave the city at 5:25 o'clock Monday morning. For some days the committee has been busily engaged in selling tickets for the excursion to the molders at the Wehrle plant and other factories. Monday morning shortly after dawn a lively scene was presented at the railroad station, where some 400 people had assembled, including the molders and their families and friends. It required a train of ten cars to carry the crowd. The train was in charge of Conductor W. A. Saveny, with Engineer Mitchell at the throttle. The train arrived in Sandusky at an early hour Monday morning and reports from there say that the Newark crowd is having a splendid time in the city and at Cedar Point.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

A Tale of a Pie Loving Monkey

THE organ grinder gentleman was along here today," said Jack as he crawled into bed, "and say, daddy, he had a monkey. Why can't we have a monkey?"

"Once," began daddy reflectively, "I knew a little boy who had an uncle down in South America—that is, the uncle had business down there. In South America monkeys swarm on the trees thicker than hops. Once in a while the uncle would come north, and then he always brought liberal presents to his nephews and nieces. I remember that this time he brought a monkey—a beautiful monkey, with bright, brown eyes and a lovely long curling tail. Simmie was a very intelligent monkey and soon became a great pet with the children. Simmie's master undertook to teach him tricks, and soon Simmie learned to go up the apple tree and bring down nice juicy apples, of which he always received a share as a reward. Simmie loved berries. He had an almost boyish weakness for currant pies, and whenever one was baked Simmie received a piece."

"One day, however, a queer pie was brought to the table and cut. The pie was empty. Like the four and twenty blackbirds of the king's famous pie, the berries seemed to have flown. Every one was astonished, and the cook was offended because the family hinted that she might have forgotten to put in any currants."

"The next day the same thing happened. The pie after baking had been set upon the dining room sideboard to cool. The cook was cross and puzzled. "Finally a third currantless pie was brought to the table, and then a watch was set on pies. Simmie's master hid in a cupboard to watch the next pie, and what do you think happened? He saw Simmie come creeping into the room, climb up to the pie carefully, separate the crust at the edge and scrape out all the currants and gobble them up."

"The secret was out. Then it was decided that in a house where pies were so popular it would not do to keep so clever and pie loving a monkey. So Simmie was presented to the zoo in the city, where he became a great favorite with the keepers and visitors."

"So, while a monkey may be a very interesting animal, and while I admit all monkeys are not violent pie lovers, they learn so many other odd and inconvenient tricks that I think we shall not buy the organ grinder gentleman's companion just at present."

"Well, maybe we would just as well not," agreed Jackie sleepily. "I never really can get as much pie as I like for myself, you know."

WOULDN'T TALK OF PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

Columbus, Aug. 14.—Expressing great interest in Ohio's coming constitutional convention, Colonel Bryan arrived in Columbus today to address the Democratic Jefferson Club this afternoon.

"The initiative and referendum is one of the growing reforms of the country, and sooner or later it will be adopted in all the state constitutions," said Mr. Bryan. "I am heartily in favor of it."

The Commoner talked on any number of public questions and only one did he shy clear of. That related to the choice by the next Democratic national convention of a candidate for president. Col Bryan was more than ready to talk of his controversy with Representative Underwood of Alabama. "As to Underwood, I have this to say: Did he oppose the resolution of Speaker Clark to take up the iron and steel schedules? He has depended on what the newspapers said, that he opposed the Clark resolution."

Mr. Bryan received a telegram today, informing him that he was a grandfather again, a daughter having been born today to the wife of his son, William.

variety in Punishment.

It was one of the vagaries of medieval law that various local courts executed their will on prisoners without interference from the higher courts, says "The Customs of Old England." They exhibited considerable ingenuity in the treatment of prisoners. Here is a case at Liverpool on October, 1553: "One Thomas Johnson had been apprehended for picking purses. Apparently he underwent no regular trial, but was dealt with summarily, the program being as follows: First he was imprisoned several days and nights, and then he was nailed by the ear to a post at the flesh stables. As the next item he was turned out naked from the middle upward, and many boys with withy rods whipped him out of the town. He was then locked to a clog with an iron chain and horse block until the Friday morning following and finally abjured the town before the mayor and bailiffs, at the same time making restitution of 6s. 8d. to the wife of one Henry Mylin."

THE SEPTEMBER OUTING.

Prominent among the good things in The Outing Magazine for September are Stewart Edward White's story, "The Ranch," the first instalment of a fine serial of Southern California; "In the Trout Land of Idaho," by Charles S. Moody, a fishing and camping story of Lake Pend d'Oreille country, and Dillon Wallace's "Essentials for a Saddle and Camp Trip," written for the vacationist who likes to rough it with his pony.

There are gun and rod articles, too, of an unusual type. "Ducks on a Rock," by Percy M. Cushing, a Long Island shooting experience. "Helps for Snipe Shooting," by Fred A. Dornay, and Edward C. Crossman's "Measuring Your Gun Stock," loaded with tips for the man who thinks a lot of his gun.

Samuel G. Camp writes about "The Versatile Angler" and criticizes fixed "schools and methods." Charles Phelps Cushing tells "How Shears May Aid the Camera" very attractively.

A story of a trip to the San Blas Indians of Panama by J. R. Ives, an Audubon term article by Williams Haynes, and "The Automobile Brake," by H. W. Slauson, round out a capital number.

Gulls of the Drongo Cuckoo.

The drongo shrike is a bird of pugnacious disposition, especially at the nesting season, when it guards its nest with, for a small bird, great ferocity. Douglas Dewar, from whom this account is taken, says that he has watched a pair of these little birds attack and drive away a monkey which tried to climb into the tree in which their nest was placed. Indeed, so able a fighter is the shrike that some other birds, notably orioles and doves, frequently build their nests in the same tree in order to share the benefit of its prowess. The drongo cuckoo lays its eggs in the nests of such birds as the king crow. These are pugnacious, even ferocious, and without some gulls a cuckoo could not accomplish this feat. But the drongo cuckoo is so like the drongo shrike, even having the same odd twist to its tail feathers, that the king crow is deceived by the resemblance and hesitates to give fight to what she takes to be one of the pugnacious shrikes.—New York World.

A Joke on Her Neighbor.

A queer old woman had a horse which was the pest of the neighborhood. It especially delighted in grazing on a certain neighbor's lawn. This was a great annoyance to him; but, not wishing to have any trouble, he decided to buy the old horse. He made the woman an offer of $10 for the old animal, which she declined. About two weeks later she came to her neighbor one day and told him she was very sorry to part with the horse, but as she was in need of a little money she had decided to accept his offer. The neighbor said, "Very well," and drawing out his purse, handed her $10. She thanked him profusely and started to leave when the man began to think himself and said, "Where shall I send to get the horse, madam?"

"Oh, he is dead down yonder in the canyon," the woman calmly replied and marched on out.

Many a woman is up to date in everything except her birthday.

COMFORT FOR SORROWING.

Pastor Russell Says That When Trouble Comes Few Doubt the Existence of God—Human Sympathy Alone Is Impotent to Comfort the Sin-Burdened Soul—Eternal Blessing Follows the Acceptance of the Divine Command—Scriptures Misunderstood.

PASTOR RUSSELL

August 13.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle took for his text today the words of Jesus, "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in Me" (John xiv, 1).

As usual there was a good crowd and closest attention given throughout. The speaker said in part—

"The world does well to keep up a cheerful, outward demeanor—to 'drive dull care away' to the best of its ability. Nevertheless, there is great force and weight to St. Paul's words to the effect that 'the whole creation is groaning and travailing in pain together, waiting' for Messiah's Kingdom and its long-promised blessings to lift the curse of sin and death and to restore to mankind the smile of the Father's favor. Reason though they may that there is no personal God—that there is merely a blind god of nature, an evolutionary force, etc., nevertheless, deep down in the heart, men believe that there is a God. Almost unconsciously the mind attributes to Him Wisdom, Justice and Power—but little of Love or sympathy with humanity and its frailties.

This very intuitive knowledge of God is closely associated with many human troubles. As the root of nearly every trouble, perhaps deep below the surface, is sin—disobedience to recognized principles of righteousness, and a fearful looking for of retribution, and uncertainty as to what it will mean. This is true, not only of many Christians, but frequently true also of others who have made no profession, who have taken upon them no solemn vows of obedience.

This troubled heart condition does not always show upon the surface. Sometimes the troubled heart is in the theatre to try to forget its troubles. Sometimes its owner is immersed in sinful pleasure-seeking, in endeavor to drown some haunting grief. Sometimes relief is sought through intoxicating liquors or narcotics; sometimes in suicide. Sometimes the troubled one is on the stage. One cannot surely know that the merry laugh and witty joke and cheery song do not come from a troubled heart. We are sure that they do, in many instances, for frequently those who have been indulging in meretricious have committed suicide a few minutes thereafter, leaving messages that their hearts had been severely burdened, while outwardly cheerful.

We have much sympathy with these sorrow-laden hearts. As a race we are walking through "the valley of the shadow of death," day by day. On every hand we have reminders of this—grief, disappointment, headache, heartache, etc. If we are measurably free from pain ourselves, yet have sympathy, we are pained in the interest of others. If none of our own dear ones has recently died, the great Enemy, Death, has laid hold upon the home of a neighbor, a brother, and he is bereaved and a reflex shadow falls upon our hearts; and further, the thought comes that our home may be invaded by the great Enemy which has already swallowed up twenty thousand millions of our race—and that by Divine permission, because we are sinners—and because sinners are unworthy of everlasting life.

The Fear of the Lord.

In our troubles we, sooner or later, realize the lack of human sympathy or, at least, its impotency. Feeling our helplessness, we instinctively look to our Creator. In the hour of trouble remarkably few doubt the existence of God. As Jesus said, "Ye believe in God." But as we look to the Almighty for protection and consider Divine Justice and realize our own weakness and shortcomings, the heart of man fails. How could he think that the Omnipotent One would have interest in or care for such a worm of the dust as he feels himself to be? How could Divine Justice look with any sympathy upon the course of selfishness which he recognizes stretches out behind him in full view of the All-Seeing Eye?

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom," is the inspired message. Surely many have this beginning of wisdom come to them at some period in their life's experience. But such a fear is the start to wisdom only when it leads the fearful one to greater carefulness of living and to a desire for the Heavenly Father's approval. If this be the leading of the fear, it is indeed the precursor of, the leader to, wisdom. As proper fear or reverence for the Almighty comes in, it acts as a restraint upon sin. It tends to make one more thoughtful more careful, more wise, in seeking for a better way.

Come by the Narrow Way.

Jesus addressed the words of our text to Jews who, under the instruction of the Law given by Moses, had learned of Divine righteousness and the Divine requirements of all those who would come into harmony with Him. They believed in God. They recognized His Justice. They were desiring to be His people; they had heard of Jesus; they had traveled with Him as His disciples. In a general way they believed in Him. To a large degree they accepted Him as the promised Messiah and yet they found it difficult to exercise a fulness of faith. Probably there are many in this same attitude of mind today—some in this audience and some in the larger audience of millions which will be reached by this sermon in the public press. I would like to bear home upon the hearts of these the very Message that Jesus gave to those who heard His Voice: "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in Me."

Hear Him saying to us today, "Ye already believe in the Creator and His Justice. Ye already have the reverential fear. Ye already desire to draw near to God. Ye have heard that He has sent His Son into the world. Ye have heard that this is a manifestation of His love and sympathy for you. Ye have heard that while you are condemned as imperfect, as sinners, as unworthy of eternal life, Divine provision has been made for your recovery through the Redeemer. As you believe in the Father's Justice which condemned you and which justly holds you at a distance from Him as unworthy of His favor, so now believe also in Me. Believe that the Father hath sent Me. Believe that it is His Love for you that prompted the sending. Believe that His Love is as strong as His Justice. Believe that His Justice and Love will co-operate for your eternal comfort and blessing. If you will accept the Divine terms.

Losing Our Heart Troubles.

The Father knows your heart troubles. He wishes the burden to be there until you shall appreciate its weight—until you shall be ready to cry to Him that you are sin-sick, weary, troubled, and above all, hungering and thirsting for righteousness and desiring reconciliation to Him—the smile of His Face. He has not waited for all of this to take place before making provision for you. He has anticipated your needs, your longings, your necessities. He has already provided the Redeemer, who is Mighty to save. If Divine Justice is exacting to the last degree, believe that Divine Love, as represented in the Redeemer sent of God, is equally exhaustless, boundless—sufficient for all your needs. If you will accept of this, the Divine arrangement through Christ, your heart troubles may be at an end. You will still have troubles in the flesh, weaknesses, aches and pains, but your heart will be joyful and happy in a fellowship Divine with the Father, through the Son.

How to Get the Peace.

Ah! says one, I have heard of God and of Jesus and of the invitation to reconciliation, but I know not how to proceed. To whom shall I go? How can I gain a hearing in my case to obtain the blessed assurance, Thy sins are forgiven thee; go and sin no more. Which church shall I join? To what priest shall I confess?

First of all, my brother, or sister, allow me to rejoice with you that you have come into the condition where you are seeking and knocking for the opening of the storehouse of Divine favor, because "He that seeketh shall find and to him that knocketh it shall be opened." Continue, then, to seek and to knock and very soon the blessings will be yours. See, first, whether or not you are seeking the proper blessing. You want forgiveness of sins that are past. You want the assurance of Divine love and care. You want the Heavenly Shepherd to take you for one of His sheep and look after your interests, both temporal and eternal. If so, good. You are seeking the very thing that God is pleased to give. Many are seeking something else—seeking to have some of self will and some of God's will, some of sin and some of righteousness. They seek in vain until, in purity of heart, they seek that which God is willing to give. All of God's gifts are by grace. None of us could claim them on the grounds of justice or merit. We cannot keep God's perfect Law, not because it is too exacting, but because we are fallen. We were born in sin, shapen in iniquity; in sin did our mothers conceive us. Be our wills ever so strong, our flesh is weak. The Divine arrangement of this Gospel Age is adapted to this very condition and is open for the honest-hearted, the sincere penitents, the ones fully determined for righteousness.

You need not come to my earthly priest but, as the Master said, go to the Father, in secret, in private. Go not in your own name or merit or worth, but in the merit of the Redeemer. Go Scripturally, claiming Him as your Advocate and appealing in His Name for the forgiveness provided by Divine mercy—to cover all the sins of the past and provide for all the imperfections unwillingly yours for the future—even to the end of the way. Coming, thus, Jesus becomes your Priest, your Advocate with the Father. "We have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the Righteous" (1 John ii, 1). "Let us come with courage to the Throne of grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in every time of need" (Hebrews ii, 18).

What will you say to your Father as you present yourself in the name of Jesus do you ask? In prayer tell Him that you are sick of sin and desirous of His righteousness, in every way.

Tell Him of your appreciation of the glorious qualities of His Character and of your desire to be as much conformed to that Character as possible. Tell Him that you know you have nothing worthy of His consideration, except the merit of Jesus to be imputed to you, which will be the covering for your imperfection. Tell Him that you present your all thus justified by faith, that the merit of Christ may be imputed; that you desire to be a living sacrifice—to be faithful unto death to Him, to His Message in the Bible and to all who are, with you, following in the good way to the Kingdom.

Daily Dying—Daily Living.

Those who have acted upon the above directions of the Lord's Word and who have thus been accepted of the Father and begotten of the Holy Spirit, are therefore New Creatures in Christ Jesus. To them "old things have passed away and all things have become new." Their souls are not troubled, because they have passed from death unto life, from Divine disfavor to Divine relationship, as sons of God—and "if children, then heirs, heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ, if so be that we suffer with Him, that we may also be glorified together" (Romans viii, 17). Those who reach this blessed state are no longer heart-troubled. They will have troubles from the world, the flesh and the Adversary, but withal they have rejoicing—"The peace of God which passeth all understanding" ruling in their hearts.

But the end is not yet. The body has been separated from the will. The will has become identified with Christ and represents the New Creature, which will not be perfected, and in its new body, until the resurrection. Meantime, as the Apostle teaches, the flesh must be considered and treated as an enemy because of its weakness, its fallen condition. A struggle, a battle, must go on continually to the end of the course. "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." The faithfulness of the New Creature, the will, will be judged by its loyalty to the Divine will and its strenuous endeavor to keep the body under—to be dead to the flesh and to the world and to be alive to the will of God. Every day should make us more alive as New Creatures and more dead as old creatures.

In this way we are, as the Apostle puts it, mortifying or denuding the flesh and being quickened or energized or made alive in spirit. This is the resurrection process for the New Creature—the death process for the old creature. It is a matter, as the Apostle explains, of rejoicing in tribulation, knowing that the trials and difficulties of the present time, under God's providence, are working out for the faithful a share in that "far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory" promised to the Elect, the Bride of Christ—a share in the Kingdom which shortly, through the power of the First Resurrection, will be exalted to glory and dominion over the earth. This is the spiritual Seed of Abraham which, during Messiah's Reign of a thousand years, is to bless Israel and, through Israel, all the families of the earth (Galatians iii, 29).

We cannot give this message to the world, even as Jesus could not do so. It is better for the world that their hearts should now be troubled to a considerable degree. Those who are in the most dangerous position, perhaps, are the ones who have no troubles in the present life and, therefore, no incentive to seek the great Burden-Bearer and fellowship with the Father through Him. Jesus said of such, "Woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation. Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep. Woe unto you when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets" (Luke vi, 24-26).

Scriptures Misunderstood.

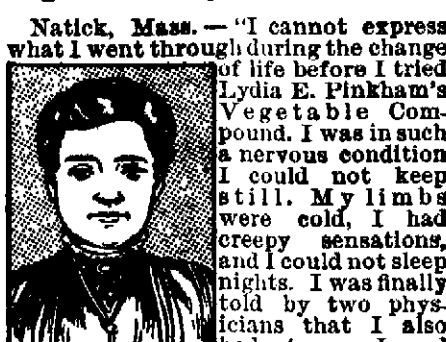

At the present time we have 1,200,000,000 that in no sense of the word are called by the Lord, and therefore have had no opportunity of responding to that call. With the thought that has prevailed for centuries, that those uncalled millions are doomed to eternal torture, the hearts of God's people have been very sorely troubled, and infidelity has been very greatly assisted into a denial of everything pertaining to Christian faith. All agree that it would be very unreasonable for the Creator of those 1,200,000,000 to expose them to the danger of eternal torment, and not give them the slightest opportunity for hearing of the only terms of salvation from it.

But when we get the correct, the Scriptural view of the matter, we see that the penalty upon those 1,200,000,000 is, "Dying thou shalt die," and that in this particular they are not different from their fathers, who were under the same curse, or sentence of death—the Adamic condemnation.

We see from the Scriptures, too, that our Lord Jesus "by the grace of God, tasted death for every man"—"to be testified in due time" (Hebrews ii, 9; 1 Timothy ii, 6). Jesus, therefore, tasted death for all these 1,200,000,000 and for all their forefathers. He has given the ransom-price for their sins as well as for ours, the Church's, and a resultant blessing must come to them as well as to us.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—MRS. NATHAN B. GREATON, 61 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Natick, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

NEGRO BURNED

falling from the tree. He was removed to the hospital and placed under guard.

A few minutes after 9 o'clock a crowd numbering almost 1000 persons appeared at the hospital. The leaders were denied admission, but they quickly smashed the window frames and crawled through the corridor. When Walker was first taken to the hospital, he was strapped down in order to prevent his escape. The mob, seeing this, gathered up the bed and, placing it on the shoulders of four men, started for the country.

When half a mile from the hospital they entered a field, and quickly gathering up a pile of dry grass and weeds, placed the bed containing their victim upon it. A match was applied and the flames shot up quickly, entirely ensnaring the screaming victim. That not a vestige of the murderer be left, the mob tore down the fence along the road and piled the rails upon the burning negro.

After waiting for half an hour the mob dispersed. A curious feature of the burning was the fact that there were almost as many women in the crowd as men.

NEGRO ASSAILANT

Of Woman Killed and Burned in Oklahoma.

Durant, Ok., Aug. 14.—A mob of 500 whites yesterday captured and shot to death an unidentified negro who Saturday attacked and shot Mrs. Redden Campbell, near here, and afterwards burning the negro's body.

The negro was killed after a running fight lasting more than an hour, in which he exhausted his ammunition. When he fell volley after volley of bullets was poured into his body by the advancing mob.

The body was then taken to the home of his victim. Nearly dead from her injuries, Mrs. Campbell identified it as that of her assailant.

Saw Home Where Former Newark Man Was Born in Germany

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roedel of Zanesville spent Sunday here with friends, who were much pleased with their report of the pleasant time they had abroad for the past four months, visiting the principal cities in Germany, Italy, Spain, France, Switzerland and England. Mr. Roedel's mother was the sister of the late Reinhard Schneider, and in their travels they visited Barchfeld, the birthplace of Mr. Schneider and his sister, as quite a number of relatives live there. They dined in the old home in which Mr. Schneider was born and were shown, among other things, a clock stove still in use that has been in the same house since before Mr. Schneider was born. In this house they were delighted to see photographs of Mr. Schneider and family.

NO REASON FOR HIDING MONEY AT THIS TIME

In any valuation of property for taxation, no matter how carefully, honestly and intelligently done, slight inequalities will exist. Such inequalities, however, will not work great injustice if all kinds of property find their place on the tax records. In recent years in this city—and Newark has not differed materially from other cities of its kind—moneys and credits have almost disappeared from the tax duplicate. This has been excused, if not justified, by the excessively high tax rate. The owner of a security paying 6 per cent per annum has felt justified in not listing it for taxation, when more than half his income from the security had to be paid in taxes on it. With a tax rate of approximately 1 per cent, however, the owner of this security has no sufficient reason or excuse for not listing it.

With an adequate return of personal property, including building association stock, book accounts, moneys, credits, etc., the tax rate for the city can be reduced much below 1-1/2 per cent. The board of review has been gratified at the response given by our people to our appeal for fair play in this important matter. No advocate of the square deal will agree that the modest home of the working man should be taxed at its true value, while the owner of mortgages and money escapes taxation. The honest man is willing to bear his share of the burden of taxation. He ought not to hear more; he must not expect to hear less.

With real estate listed at its true value, and only a very small per cent of moneys and credits listed, great inequality will exist, and real estate—the small home owner largely—will carry more than his share of the taxes—a burden he has long borne and which he ought not to be expected to bear longer.

These moneys and credits cannot long remain hidden. The owner can have no valid complaint if his neighbor who has voluntarily reported to this board his moneys and credits, reports to the board those of his neighbors who are known to have such property. Our books are open for inspection at all reasonable hours.

Next year and thereafter, the board will be required, under the law, not only to list money and credits, which the owner fails now to list, but a penalty of 50 per cent will be added. If you have not made a proper return, seriously consider this matter, and stop at our office, southwest corner of the court house basement.

The death of General George W. Gordon, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans and a member of congress, removes a prominent factor in the Confederate army during the civil war. COAL PRODUCTION.

Virginia Breaks Record in 1910 With Output of Over Six and a Half Million Tons.

Virginia's coal production is steadily increasing. The total output of the State in 1910 was 6,607,997 short tons, with a spot value of $5,777,186, according to Edward W. Parker, coal statistician of the United States Geological Survey.

Virginia established two new records in the statistics of her coal production in 1910, first, in quantity of coal produced (6,607,997 short tons), and second, in the amount and percentage of increase over the preceding year. The production in 1909 4,752,217 short tons had exceeded all previous records, but this was beaten in 1910 by the unprecedented increase of 1,755,780 tons, or nearly 37 per cent. The value increased $1,620,110, or a per cent from $1,251,056 to $5,777,186. Although little if any of the Virginia product was shipped to the West to make up the deficiency caused by the prolonged strike in the mines of the Mississippi Valley States, the shortage in those States was the indirect cause of the remarkable increase in Virginia's output. The strike in the Middle West naturally created an unusual demand upon the coal mines of West Virginia, and a large part of the production of that State, customarily sent to the seaboard, was diverted to the temporarily more profitable markets in the West. This demand in turn gave opportunity for a large outlet to the seaboard for Virginia coals, an opportunity of which the Virginia coal men were not slow to take advantage.

OHIO NATIONAL IS MAKING GAIN

Judge C. C. Lemert, the new president of the Ohio National Life of Cincinnati, is taking hold of his duties well and proving out his capacity as a life insurance president. Judge Lemert, as a public servant, received a training which admirably adapts him to become the head of a company with many stockholders scattered over the state. The good record which he made in the Ohio department is establishing confidence in his company among the substantial people of Ohio and it would not be surprising if the Ohio National should lead all others in the amount of new business written.

The foregoing paragraph is taken from the Western Underwriter. Judge Lemert is a Licking county man and has a wide acquaintance in this section of the state. There are several stockholders of the Ohio National in Newark, among them Capt. A. H. Hefsey, who is one of the company's directors. The Ohio National has nearly 1000 stockholders in Ohio. Its first policy was issued last October, and today it has nearly $3,000,000 of business on its books.

COSHOCTON COUNTY STOREKEEPER IS SWINDLED BY CHECK

Coshocton, O., Aug. 14. — I. D. Carruthers, who conducts a store at Birds Run, was swindled out of $14.75 Thursday by two smooth strangers, who passed a bogus check drawn on a Cambridge bank, which Carruthers cashed. Following the discovery of the game and a telephone message to Newcomerstown, the two strangers were located and the marshal of that village started out in pursuit, but the two men cut across fields and over fences and gave the marshal the slip.

The strangers entered the store and purchased a few small articles. They gave the check to Mr. Carruthers and it was cashed. They got about $14.75 out of Carruthers' cash drawer as change.

Becoming suspicious of the men, a few minutes after they had left, Carruthers called up the bank in Cambridge to find out the check's value. The records were looked up and it was found that the check was worthless.

WIFE OF FORMER NEWARK MAN DIES OF FRIGHT

Regarding the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Ferguson, wife of Benjamin F. Ferguson, a former well known resident of Newark, which occurred at her home in Barborton, O., several days ago, a dispatch from that place says:

"Mrs. Benjamin F. Ferguson, aged 45 years, a member of one of Barborton's prominent families, died at her home, 135 West Baird avenue, Wednesday night of a complication of nervous diseases resulting from a fright received almost two weeks ago. The nature of the case has attracted the attention of county authorities and criminal prosecution may follow if the attending physicians decide positively that her death was caused by fright."

"A week ago Saturday night a young man, living in the neighborhood of the Ferguson home, made a mistake in trying to find his own home while intoxicated and slept the night out on the Ferguson porch. About 4 a. m. the young fellow, partially sobered, entered a downstairs window and ascended the stairs to the second floor. The members of the family immediately awakened and Mr. Ferguson and Guy, a son, threw the man from the house."

"Mrs. Ferguson was a native of Akron, having lived there since childhood until moving to Barborton 11 years ago. Her husband is a foreman at the plant of the Diamond Match company and besides him, one son, Guy, survives. Mrs. Ferguson was prominent church work having been a member of the Methodist church for many years. The arrangements for the funeral will be made later."

He had lived in Newark all his life and attained a good common school education in the public schools of Newark. He was a blacksmith by trade and for many years operated the "Village Blacksmith Shop" on East Main street, and later the shop in the rear of the Auditorium. For three terms he served faithfully as trustee of Newark township. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Daisy, and one brother, Dr. Walter Harrington, a dentist of this city. Besides his wife, Hulda, Mr. Harter leaves to mourn his death a son, Daryl of this city, a brother, Dr. Jesse Harter of Plain City, and a sister, Cora, who makes her home with the brother's family.

Mr. Harter was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Hebron, and of Hebron Lodge, F. and A. M.; Williams Lodge 303, I. O. O. F., Hebron; Modern Woodmen, Hebron 244; Camp of Royal Neighbors.

The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, at the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. David Priest of New Lexington and Rev. Tibbles of the Hebron church officiating, and will be under the auspices of the Masonic lodge and I. O. O. F. Interment in Hebron cemetery.

GEORGE W. IRWIN.

The funeral services of the late George W. Irwin, who took his own life Saturday afternoon at his home in Hudson avenue, occurred Monday afternoon from the Irwin home, 521 Hudson avenue, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Allen of Pleasant Chapel officiated. The body was buried beside the body of his son, in Cedar Hill cemetery.

George W. Irwin was born near Clay Lick, in Madison township, Feb. 7, 1835, the son of Samuel J. and Elizabeth (Duckworth) Irwin. On Sept. 1, 1859, he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Shannon, also of Madison township. For 30 years Mr. and Mrs. Irwin lived near Clay Lick and then removed to St. Louisville, where they remained for ten years. Twelve years ago this fall the family moved to Newark, where they have since resided.

Besides his aged wife, Mr. Irwin leaves to mourn his unfortunate death, two sons, O. C. Irwin, who lives in Madison township, in the old home, and N. E. Irwin of St. Louisville, three children, two sons and a daughter, having died some years ago.

In talking with an Advocate representative this morning, Mrs. N. E. Irwin, a daughter-in-law of the deceased, stated that no cause was known for Mr. Irwin's death. She said that he had been suffering with sciatic rheumatism for some time, and that, together with the extreme hot weather, may have caused his mind to become unbalanced.

At noon Saturday Mr. Irwin ate a hearty dinner and went to the barn, his wife supposing he was going there to feed the horse. In about an hour a telephone call came from Mr. Irwin and Mrs. Irwin, on going to the barn to call him, found him hanging by a rope tied to a rafter.

Oliver B. Irwin, a nephew of the dead man, was called, as was the coroner, and together they laid the body on the floor, but life was extinct and the body cold, which led the men to think he had been dead probably an hour.

In the pocket of Mr. Irwin was found a knife, some money and the following note, which in a way explains the deed.

"Aug. 12, 1911.—Everything is gone with me. Life has become a drag to me. Everything has become bewildered to me. Bury me by the side of Clarence. Make no demonstration. No flowers. Burial private."

There was no signature to the note and the writing, though very plain, showed that it had been written hurriedly.

MRS. ROSS E. TEDRICK.

Vivi Tedrick, aged 22, wife of Ross E. Tedrick, died at the family home at No. 412 North Ninth street at 5:55 o'clock Saturday morning. Death resulted from a complication of diseases. The deceased had only been ill since Tuesday. She seemed to be in the best of health up to that time when she was taken suddenly ill and sank rapidly until the end came this morning.

The young couple have resided in this city since June, having moved here from Newark. The husband is employed as electrician at the Coshocton Light and Heating Company. Although they have only been in the city a short time they have made many firm friends who join with the relatives in mourning the loss of the deceased. In addition to the grief, stricken husband the only survivor is the daughter, Ruth Evelyn Tedrick, who is but 19 months old.

The body was taken to Newark on No. 3 Saturday evening where the funeral services were held at the home of the husband's father, Elmer Tedrick, at No. 18 East Harrison street at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Interment was made in the Cedar Hill cemetery at Newark. — Coshocton Times.

The mother of the deceased, Mrs. Emma Caughenbaugh, survives. Mrs. Caughenbaugh formerly lived in Newark, but recently has made her home with the young couple in Coshocton. A brother, Elmer, of Dayton, also survives.

THEO. HIGGINBOTHAM.

Theodore Higginbotham of Nashport died at his home there about 11 o'clock Sunday morning after an illness of about one year with cancer. The funeral services will be held at the late home of the deceased Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, and the interment, which will be private, will be made in the Buelah cemetery.

MRS. VICTORIA TAYLOR.

Mrs. Victoria Taylor, widow of the late Thomas M. Taylor, died at her home, 158 North Fifth street, at an early hour Monday morning. The funeral services will be conducted at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SHOULD GRANT REQUEST FOR THE SECOND ST. BRIDGE

It is to be hoped that our efficient board of county commissioners will grant the request made by the South Side citizens for a new bridge to span the South Fork of the Licking river on South Second street. The present structure is thirty-five years old and is inadequate to accommodate the great amount of travel that is constantly passing over this road. It is an inlet to our city of more than one-half of the residents of the southern part of the county to say nothing of the large number of people from Perry and Fairfield counties that travel over the road. The saving of the present structure, to be located at some less important place would be a great saving to the county. It is hoped by all our citizens that prompt action will be taken.

It is believed here that three million persons will be in attendance during the week.

JOHN DIETZ, THE WESTERN OUTLAW, DYING OF BLOOD POISONING IN JAIL; CABIN WHERE HE WAS SHOT

Milwaukee, Aug. 14. John Dietz, the notorious outlaw, of Cameron Dam, is on the verge of death at the Waupun state prison with blood poisoning resulting from a wound received in the memorable battle with deputy sheriffs last October, according to a telegram received by George Schultes, chairman of the Dietz defense committee. Mrs. Dietz wired Schultes that Dietz's right hand, where he was wounded became infected and was responsible for his precarious condition. Dietz in his cabin in the hills resisted arrest for a lengthy period and shot many of his attackers. The son and daughter aided him in the defense of his cabin, which was a veritable fortress. Dietz is serving a life sentence.
